Systemline E50

Installed Bluetooth music system with touch and gesture control with TV audio / auxiliary input

The first impression of an installed E50 is one of gloss-black elegance, but it does not stop there. This is because not only does E50 feature touch sensitive control but also contactless hand gesture operation. This is particularly useful in locations such as kitchens, where not having to touch a panel whilst kneading the pizza dough is of obvious practical benefit.

E50 is a pleasure to use, because it is so easy and has a number of important benefits over standalone Bluetooth speakers

Systemline E100

Installed DAB+/FM/Bluetooth music system with touch control and TV audio / auxiliary input

E100 is a comprehensive installed music system appealing to those that appreciate the latest digital radio broadcasts at the touch of a button, but also appreciate playing music from smart phones, tablets or laptops. The bright OLED screen acts as a clock when in standby but then informs the user of the currently selected station or source. E100s built in alarm and IP rating makes it equally suitable in bedrooms and bathrooms as well as kitchens.
